

Draw from Memory Challenge

Aim: to examine an image of the Harimandir Sahib (Golden Temple) as an introduction to this holy site.

- Put the children into groups of 6
- Display the image of the Harimandir Sahib in a way that is hidden from the class
- 1 person from each group has a minute to study the image, they must then return to their table and draw what they have seen from memory
- The next person then goes to look at the image and repeats
- The image is divided into 6. We recommend that each child studies and draws just one grid. The group will need to divide the task between them
- When everyone has finished, compare results
